

Health, Safety and Wellbeing – “Good Stuff” initiative

Thanks to the following businesses for sharing the “good stuff” they are doing to strive for excellence in health, safety and wellbeing

The winners are

Brolube – Duane Johaar, Operations Manager

Operational leaders stepping up to improve HSW outcomes:

Duane Johaar, Operations Manager brought to the attention of the wider team the conditions that technicians work in offsite. Safer spaces worksite structure has been implemented including reporting structure and acceptable standards.

Operational leaders stepping up to improve HSW outcomes:

Toolbox talks are conducted by ground staff which has enhanced employee engagement, encouraged active participation and ensures that workers views on health and safety matters are heard.

Special acknowledgement to

Watercare

A great example of client leadership:

Established a joint group including contractors at a leadership and frontline workers level. Outcome has been more open communication, good ideas and recommendations coming through from the group.

Tell us about the “good stuff” you’re doing

Tell us about the “good stuff” you’re doing by answering a couple of simple questions in our google form (use the QR code or this link <https://forms.gle/5ixNYpT5EXpJEjsSA>).

